If You Hear Music Under Water DO NOT Follow It
"Hear, hear" is a shortened version of "hear ye, hear ye," which goes back to British Parliament in the 1600s, if not earlier. The expression was — and is — used to draw attention to what someone is saying. It implies agreement with the speaker or, in modern times, the writer. More info: Wikipedia has an entry for hear, hear.

"Here, here" or "hear, hear?"
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting. Or being lied about, don't deal in lies, Or being hated, don't give way to hating, And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise: If you can dream—and not make dreams your master; If you can think—and not make ...
